United States. National Archives. Bounty Land Warrants Used in the U.S. Military District of Ohio and Related Papers, Acts of 1788, 1803, 1806 (M829).

16 reels. Accompanied by four finding aids at the beginning of reel 1. The warrants and related papers are arranged by date of act and thereunder in numerical sequence. A bounty land warrant was a right to free land on the public domain. During the Revolutionary War the Continental Congress promised bounty land as an inducement to military service. The warrants in this record series were issued by the U.S. government, and therefore do not include bounty land warrants granted by some of the states. A warrant shows the date of issuance, the name and rank of the veteran, the state from which he enlisted, and when applicable the name of the heir or assignee. A notation on the reverse of the warrant indicates subsequent transfers of ownership. Please note that most of the warrants from 1 to 6912 issued under the act of July 9, 1788 were destroyed in the War Department fires of 1800 and 1814. Originals are in the National Archives. [FILM 571]
